

Student Name: _____

When do you introduce this? How?

CATEGORY	4	3	2	1
Characters	The main characters are named and clearly described in text. Most readers could describe the characters.	The main characters are named but were not described well.	The main characters are named. No description of the characters. The reader knows very little about the characters.	It is hard to tell who the main characters are.
Adjectives	There are five examples of adjectives.	There are four examples of adjectives.	There were three examples of adjectives.	There were two examples of adjectives.
Exaggeration	There are four examples of exaggeration.	There are three examples of exaggeration.	There are two examples of exaggeration.	There is one example of exaggeration.
Adverbs how? when? where? why? easily, tomorrow	There are at four examples of adverbs.	There are three examples of adverbs.	There are two examples of adverbs.	There is one example of adverbs.
Sentences	There are at least 8 sentences.	There are least 6-7 sentences.	There are at least 5-6 sentences.	There are at least 4 sentences.

*Would be Nice to put this on overhead
+ explain to class together, then have copies @ seats*

the five cats in the forest

The cats are named Judy, Karen, Mom, and Jordan. They lived in the forest. They were kind and friendly. In the Jordan, they appeared in the forest. Urie Jordan said "Follow me." (there chase) that fish. They went and followed the fish and they followed that fish and will they get the fish and ate it on a plate. They got in line. The cats waved to the table. They ate their fish.

Suddenly

3 * more description of characters

1 * more adjectives

0 * more exaggeration

1 * more adverbs

3 * one more sentence

8/20

ABRAHAM

The Enemies

Once upon a time there were ^(adj)2 sisters that hated ^(adj)2 skunks and ^(adj)2 monkeys. ~~So once~~ ^(adj)2 more people came and they were ^(adj)2 boys. It all happened in the forest. They didn't like each other at all.

They never ^(adv)talked to each other. The forest was filled with bad creatures. The skunks ^(adv)sprayed the girls ^(adv)with pink ink. The monkeys laughed at the boys. The skunks ^(adv)sprayed the monkeys different colors. The skunks put on fancy ^(adv)clothes to go to the ball ~~party~~. The skunks were mean ^(adv)er than little rats. When the girls saw the skunks they turned ^(adv)ting as a mice. All of them were big enemies. One of ^(adv)a the girls' ideas ~~was~~ was a brilliant one. The skunks were so lovely that every boy liked them. The monkeys were fuzzy and fluffy. The boys were witty.

^(adv)Finally they became friends. Then ~~it~~ ^(adv)there ~~made~~ ^(adv)was an earthquake and a Tsunami. They played together and had so much fun together. Then they decided not to be enemies any more. Then they were truthfully ^(adv)to each other. They were helpful.

- 3 * Names needed
- 4 * Terrific adjectives
- 3 * More exaggeration
- 2 * More adverbs
- 4 * Good number of sentences

16/20

~~8th~~ (8th)
T= Elephants, Gorillas, Alder's adventure.

Once upon a time, ^I Alder, a ~~human~~ was walking in the jungle. ~~He~~ ^I saw an elephant that was ^{big}. It was bigger than 2 and a half gorillas. Then I saw ^{another} gorilla and the elephant was not even as ^{big} as the gorilla. Then the gorilla said, "Hi!" "Wow! You talk?" the gorilla said. "So can ^{the} Elephant." "You guys can talk?" I gasped and I talked to them.

Later I saw a rock that was ^{huge}. It was about 3,000 badgers. Then Gorilla sensed something. "I don't ^{adv} think that's a rock," said Gorilla. Then a face ^{adv} popped out. "A ^{adj} Creepy Animal!" "Oh NO!" I said. "It's a ^{adj} dino-monster," said ^{the} Elephant. I was ^{adv} creeped out then the monster yelled louder than a sperm whale. Then it chased us and then it hit a ^{adj} giant cube. "Ow! that ^{adv} would hurt," I said. Then it fell down. Then it chased us ^{adv} and ^{the} elephant and Gorilla hid and I jumped ^{adv} onto a tree. "Roar!" said the monster. Then ^I saw ~~me~~ its claws were sharp needles that ^{adv} ~~built~~ ^{build} houses. "Hey, can I borrow those needles?" I asked. "Never, and these are not needles, they're claws." "They are?" "Yes, ^{now} I want to eat you!" "Never!" "Roar!" Then I ran ^{adv} up a mountain.

And the monster hit its head "Ouch!"
"That's got to hurt!"

Then its head broke ^{into more pieces than} as a Squashed Tomato.
"Ouch!" I said. Then it walked as slow
as a Confused turtle.

4 * good description

4 * good adjectives

4 * good adverbs

4 * good exaggeration

4 * good number of sentences

